Code of Conduct for the Board

The responsibilities of the Board positions are listed above and if there is a failure of a person in a position to uphold these responsibilities they can be subject to a recall. If an individual fails to communicate and/or contact club advisors for a 30 day period while the club is in active session (during the academic year) the position will fall vacant and an interim position will be placed until the next election. If a board member incurs 3 unexcused absences they can be subject to a recall. If a board member incurs 5 excused absences, the board member will be asked to meet with the board to determine whether that individual should continue to hold office.

Meetings

Meetings will be open to all organization active and associate members, faculty and Student Programs representatives. A notice of at least one (1) week will be given prior to all meetings. The meetings are to be organized and controlled by officers and active members.

Voting

Officers will be elected by written or tally ballot during the annual Election Meeting with each present member casting a vote. A majority of votes will constitute a victory.

The constitution and by-laws can only be amended by members of the board. Club members can issue suggestions, recommendations and additions but the members of the board have the final vote.

Activities/Field Trips

All activities and field trips through the club must be brought to the attention of the club advisor. Activity/field trip organizers are required to attend the activity/field trip or communicate their inability to attend in a timely fashion. Failure to do so will result in a revocation of the privilege to organized future trips and an unexcused absence for Board members. Field trip organizers should ensure that they have phone numbers to contact a substitute or replacement in case of emergency. Ideally they should have an informal co-leader capable of leading the trip if they fail to appear.

Participation in club activities and field activities is limited to all organization active and associate members. The activities are to be organized and controlled by members, officers, instructors and advisors.
